I did discuss our next sampling with Cindy, and my recollection was the labs suggested eliminating a number of methods based on no detections. These recommendations have been reflected in our proposed next round sampling list, e.g. we have eliminated pretty much all methods where we didn't have detections. We will no longer be running vocs and svocs as an example.

Cindy and Robin -

Week 4 data: The week 4 data is final and has been reviewed by HQs, We received a couple of comments last week which I will forward for your review.

Finalizing Week 5 data: Thanks for the quick response on the R3 report. I think that just leaves the R6 glycols. Once final reports will be distributed to HQs, R3 tox and ATSDR for review (will copy you). Roll-out planned for week of April 30th.

Rad data: With the exception of Thorium (1200002 Alpha Spec) - it looks like all Rad data has been posted on the FTP site. Thanks! The contractor continues to work on getting the data into Scribe. This is a bit more complicated - given the unique reporting of the Rad data. The contractor is conducting a project level review of the data and will be submitting any comments.

Re-sampling: the site team is working on the criteria for re-sampling and expect to make recommendations to management this week. We are still interested in any recommendations you may have. Rich - not sure if you would like to have a short call with Cindy/Robin to discuss where we stand?

Thanks again for all your help - Kelley
